Introducing GlobeNet™, the revolutionary web-based trading system designed for under-supported companies.

For as long as stocks have been traded, middlemen have “made the market.” And along the way, they’ve added costs and delays.

Say goodbye to the middlemen!

Now there’s GlobeNet, the automated trading system created for under-represented companies. GlobeNet is Internet-based, so individuals and firms have direct on-line interaction with other buyers and sellers. GlobeNet also offers premium media and investor relations services designed to increase investor trust and loyalty. The result is a system primed to produce increased volume, liquidity and the potential for higher valuations.

After 200 years of the same old middlemen, GlobeNet is the 21st century market for companies like yours. Learn more by visiting www.GlobeNet.com to become a Charter Member Company today. Or, call Bob Taylor, Vice President of Marketing at (202) 478-7676.
